Guidance notes – Building notice

If the proposed works involve any of the following,

- Erecting a new house fronting on to an unadopted road;
- Offices, shops, public houses, entertainment venues, premises providing sleeping accommodation, residential care, places of assembly, factories and warehouses, theatres, cinemas, educational premises, healthcare premises, transport premises and common parts of residential accommodation which the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 applies, or will apply after the completion of the building work;
- The erection or extension of a building or work involving the underpinning of a building, which is either building over or within 3 metres of a public sewer

Then a Building Notice cannot be used and you will have to submit a Full Plans application.

- A. You must give at least two day's notice, in writing, before you start any work.
- B. This Building Notice is valid for three years. If you do not start the work within this period, you must put forward a new Building Notice.
- C. If the work you are doing includes a new building or extension, you must include a block plan at a scale of 1:1250 with your application. The block plan must include the following details:
- The size and position of the building or the building with the extension and the distances in metres, from the boundaries.
 - The size, position and use of any other buildings near the proposed building or extension.
 - The width and position of any street near the building or that will be near the building once the extension is finished.
 - The drainage arrangements of the new building or extension.
- D. If the work you are doing includes filling cavity walls with insulating material, you must tell us:
- the name and type of insulation material you will use;
 - if the insulation material is approved by the British Board of Agrément or meets the British Standards; and
 - if the installer has a British Standards Institution Certificate of Registration or is approved by the British Board of Agrément.
- E. If the work includes installing a hot water storage system without an air vent, you must tell us:
- the name, model and type of hot water storage system;
 - the name of the organisation that approved or certified that the system's performance meets Part G of schedule I to the Building Regulations; and
 - the name of the institute or association the installer is registered with.

Have you done the following?

- Answered all of the questions on this form.
- Included two copies of the filled-in application form (signed and dated).
- Included one block plan. (This only applies for new buildings or extensions)
- Included one filled-in Building control charges form.
- Included a statement if you are filling cavity walls with insulating material.
- Included a statement if you are installing a hot water storage system without an air vent.
- Online payment made.
